* All Court One membership rules and policies apply. Court One reserves the right to change or discontinue employer discounts and the qualifications to receive these discounts with or without notice at any time. Discounts do not apply when paid annually or on a short-term basis. If Court One discontinues a discount based on employer participation, not as a result of the member's employment status with the qualifying employer, the member will be given consideration to cancel membership without penalty. If the discount request is approved, any payments made during membership enrollment or during the approval process will be adjusted to reflect the discount.
